LONDON, July 5, 5:35 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Among those on board the steamer Energie, which brought some of the survivors, was Capt Gundel of the Norge. He said:

"All went well until about 7:45 o'clock last Thursday. When about eighteen miles south of Rockall, I felt the steamer strike heavily forward on a sunken rock. There was a gentle breeze from the southwest. I stood on the bridge with Chief Officer Carpenter. Soundings were taken, and it was reported there was five feet of water in the forward hold. Orders were given to commence pumping, and also to the passengers to put on life belts and be ready to get to the boats, which were ordered to be put out.

Many persons who re-tained their presence of mind, seized life preservers, only to find in some instances that the strings were rot ten and they could not be quickly placed around their bodies. Those who reached the deck saw the nose the rocks.

It remained there only a utes, for Capt. Gundell, commanding who had immediately gone to the bridge, gave the order to the engineer to reverse the engines. LIFEBOAT SMASHED.

The sound of grinding ceased as the steamer returned to deep water. The sea rushed hungrily into the huge rents made by the rocks in the iron hull. Swiftly the vessel began to sink by the bows. Without waiting for orders and without paying attention to their proper manning, the occupants began to lower the boats. The starboard lifeboat began slowly lowering, when to the horror of those on board, the stern tackle failed, while the bow tackle ran free. Soon the boat was almost perpendicular. Those who were in it clung desperately to the sides and seats until a great wave came towering along and ately to the sides and seats until a great wave came towering along shd struck the boat, smashing it against the side of the ship. deck had no time to spare to assist the few who had a chance to escape, but lost it.

Undeterred by the experience of the first boat, a second, loaded principally with women and children, was lowered. This time the tackle ran smoothly, but the hopes of escape of the passengers on board were blasted. The moment it touched the water, waves picked up the small craft as if it had been a feather, and dashed it against the side of the ship, in spite of the frantic efforts of the passengers to fend it off. The crash was heard on deck; then the sea swallowed victims, and pieces of wreckage slowly drifted toward the rock. The upper deck of the Norge, at the time of the disaster to the second boat, was only a few feet from the water, and it was apparent to everyone that only a few minutes more and she would plunge beneath the waves. In the final crisis, those who were able to remember clearly what happened say that the shrieks and the water, and soon, around the ship, hundreds of people were struggling in the sea, having preferred to die in the open to being submerged with the ship. Others determined to stand by the ship, hoping against hope shat she would remain affoat. Three boats, it is known, successfully reached the open sea.

The passengers frantically pulled away from the doomed ship, passing by poor wretches who were still affoat and who vainly begged to be taken on board, while from the ship came long, despairing cries. The women in the boat which reached Grimsby hid their eyes, but the men who were sitting facing the Norge say they saw the captain still on the bridge and the passengers on deck in attitudes of resignation.

THE LAST PLUNGE. While they looked, the Norge plunged forward, her stern shot up in the air, and she disappeared. The swimmers in the vicinity of the ship were drawn into the vortex, around which they whiried like chips in the time the ship struck until she sank. A fine Scotch mist, which was falling e, and none vivors from the view of those who bow of the boat, and a sailor, a Dane, water cask showed that it did not con-tain a drop of water. There were some biscults, and these were eaten by the shipwrecked people during the ten hours between the time the ship struck, at 7 a.m., June 28, until they were picked up by the Grimbsy trawier, Salvia.

SAT HORROR STRICKEN. "And we who sat, horror stricken in that small boat, avoided as much as possible the heavy seas, because we were afraid we would sink," said Larra Christina Pederson of Copenhagen, who is on her way to join her cousin, John Schroeder, at Chicago. "We were dancing and singing to the music of guitars and violins, the night before, on the promenade deck of the Norge. We were so unhappy, then, in that small boat, not knowing what would be our fate, with the memory of horrible scenes on the steamer, we could do nothing more than pray miserably for the succor

ST. PETERSBURG, July 4.—{By Atlantic Cable.} A war correspondent who has arrived from Mukden expresses the opinion that with the rainy season at hand, the Japanese have lost their opportunity of dealing Gen. Kouropatkin a crushing blow. He says that neither the world in general nor the Japanese knew how weak the Russian army was in the earlier stages of the war, and asserts that practically the Russian army was then non-existent, but when he left, June 18, Kouropatkin were pouring in at the rate of 2000 per day.

Earlier, the correspondent thinks, the Japanese could have done anything they wished, if they had pressed the campaign with vigor. During the three months delay in cutting off Port Arthur, the Russians rushed in munitions and provisions. When the battle of the Yalu occurred, the correspondent continues, Kouropatkin had all in readiness to retire to Kirin. He thinks that the vaunted Japanese secret service is very defective, because it did not discover the situation, and says it is now too late, as, at the end of the rainy season, Kouropatkin will be strong enough to assume the offensive.

A further mobilization order, affecting the reserve officers, is expected for the St. Petersburg, Novgorod, Pakoff and Balue provinces. The order will also affect horses.

LIAO YANG, July 4.—The Japanese are evidently nonplussed at Gen. aouropatkin's tactics, as proved by their alternate advance on Lino Yang from Feng Wang Cheng and subsequent retreat. The Japanese are suffering greatly from lack of supplies, the country being devastated. Two divisions are reported to have fallen back on Feng Wang Cheng. The Japanese activity in the south is also suspended, Gen, Kuroki being threatened by the Russian troops from the north.

He still is considerably hampered by the presence of Vicercy Alexieff, who was responsible for the Russian disaster at Vafangow."

Or is a prisoner is not known.

A Red Cross train came up to the scene of the fight, and though warned of its presence, the Japanese infantry and artillery fired on it and riddled it. No one was killed.

as part of the operations of June 29.

Gen. Samsomoff, with the object of harassing the Japanese, advanced toward Senuchen at 2 a.m. The column reached within rifle shot of the railroad station, at 6 o'clock, and two companies of Cossacks opened fire, driving in the Japanese outposts.

The Cossacks raced to a semaphore station on a hill near the railway, which they occupied, and signalled the Russian column of the disposition of the Japanese. Throwing themselves on their horses, they again galloped to join their comrades, with whom they occupied the railway station, which the Japanese evacuated, firing hurriedly. There was little loss to the Russians, but the Japanese left nine wounded at the station.

The Novoe Vremya's military expert expresses the opinion that the Japanese aim to secure Newchwang. There are only twelve miles between Gen. Count Keller's force and the Japanese army, and a collision between them is not regarded as not unlikely. The Japanese evidently are hoping in case of success to compel Kouropatkin, with Gen. Stakelberg's corps, to fall back from Ta Tche Kiao on Liao Yang and thus force an evacuation of Newchwang.

The Admiralty here has no news of the sea fight off Port Arthur Monday last, reported by Admiral Togo, and is not inclined to believe it. The understanding is that the Russian warships are still at Port Arthur.

He gave out a manifesto list ears and accomplish something in a State where a fusion of Demorespondent at Tokio that Germany had agreed to allow the Port Arthur squadron to seek refuge at Kaichou, (the German port on the Shan Tung Peninsula.) was absolutely denied. ready united and following him as a compact body. He had appealed to gold-standard men to go in with him and eliminate Parker, and after that let the best man win in the convention. His manifesto declaring that Parker was represented by an agent of Wall street and sounding the old 1896 slogan made it impossible for any division to occur among conservative forces east of the Allegheny Mountains.

GUFFEY CAUGHT HIM.

Following this remarkable manifesto, Bryan approached James M. Guffey of the Pennsylvania delegation today, and sought to enter into a combination with him. Guffey had been playing for position for several days, and either by accident or by design, nobody will ever know, he led Bryan on until a noose was around his neck. After it had been securely fastened, Guffey stepped from under and Bryan was left suspendid on a limb. Guffey himself cannot be charged with having entrapped Bryan. Bryan sought Guffey, and Guffey simply let it be known to other members of the Pennsylvania delegation that the Nebraskan had expressed a willingness to support ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison, a gold-standard candidate for President, and throw votes to him if Pennsylvania would place him in nomination. GUFFEY CAUGHT HIM.

INDIGNANT DELEGATES. This action on Bryan's part caused the profoundest indignation among the Pennsylvania delegates. Members of the delegation held a meeting well to let matters drift along until tomorrow."

The friends of ex-Gov. Pattison at this juncture stepped forward and declared that his friends throughout the State would be highly incensed if his name should be made use of to serve Bryan's purpose. They declared that Gov. Pattison did not want an indorsement and that the Pennsylvania delegates would destroy their usefulness in all national conventions to be held in future if they permitted their sixty-eight delegates to become part of the piot which had been hatched by Bryan and Hearst. Under these circumstances, Col. Guffey agreed that a meeting of the delegates should be called at 9 o'clock.

Convention intensits conterns in this Convention interests centered in this meeting. The report had gone out, and had been circulated, too, by Bryan influences, that Pennsylvania was going to present a favorite son as a candidate and take its stand with Missouri and Wisconsin. The Hearst mangers professed to have an agreement with Col. Guffey to this effect. The Parker managers refused to discuss the probability of such action on the part of the Pennsylvania delegation.

SOLID FOR PARKER

SOLID FOR PARKER tion was finally held, it did not take the sixty-two Pennsylvania delegates present more than fifteen minutes to come to an agreement. Col. Guffey entered no objection. There was no one in the delegation willing to lead a fight against Parker, and the resolution tentatively agreed upon at the afternoon meeting instructing the chairman of the delegation to cast the solid vote of Pennsylvania for Judge Parker so long as his name is before the convention was adopted by the overwhelming vote of 57 to 5. It was everywhere recognized that the poor management of Bryan had precipitated the Pennsylvania caucus, which otherwise would not have declared its choice, possibly until it was ready to vote in convention.

SECOND GLARING BLUNDER. the sixty-two Pennsylvania delegates

SECOND GLARING BLUNDER. The second glaring blunder of Bryan, in issuing his Populist mani-festo, disposed of all talk of Cleveland as a candidate. New Jersey, or rather ex-Senator Smith of New Jersey, desired to present the name of Grover Cleveland. There was a majority of the New Jersey delegation which was willing to let him have his own way about the matter up to the time of the Bryan Wall street alarm. But the New Jersey delegates took the same position as did those from Pennsylvania—that the gold-standard advocates would make a laughling stock of themselves if they lent aid or encouragement to Bryan. New Jersey, although not counted in the Parker column, was conceded to him conight, whenever it was needed to secure the nomination. and as a candidate. New Jersey, o

bers of the delegation held a meeting this afternoon. Col. Guffey was not present. Nobody knows whether this was by accident or design, but the millionaire politician permitted the rest of the delegation to first discuss an important matter. Speeches were made by several very irate indiv'duals, who pointed out that Bryan was trying to use Pennsylvania as a catspaw. After expressions from delegates from various parts of the State, a resolution was prepared, and it was decided to ask for a full meeting of the delegation and demand action on the part of Col. Guffey. A committee waited on him and told him what had been done.

NEW YORK, July 4.—The officers of the Scandinavian Steamship Line in this city were besieged by scores of people. Nearly all were Russian Jewa, who were seeking news about the sinking of the steamer Norge. There was no information to se had there, however, as the offices were closed for the day, and the newspapers were eagerly watched for any additional details of the disaster.

A strange coincidence in connection with the Norge disaster is found in the fact that news thereof is made public on the anniversary of the tragedy of the French line steamship La Bourgoyne, sunk in collision with the Cromartyshire south of Sable Island, July 4, 1892. Of the 129 persons on board, only 159 were saved. Of all the women passengers, only one was saved. LA BOURGOYNE RECALLED.

LONDON, July 4.—The government tonight carried through Premier Balfour's closure proposed under which business will be transacted for the remainder of the session of the House of Commons by a majority of 80, despite the heated denunciations of members of the opposition. Disorderly scenes took place in the lobbies, which were invaded by the public and by deputations seeking to influence members to vote against the government. The policemen, who were reinforced, finally forced the crowd into the courtyard adjoining the House.

If there is to be a boom for any other candidate, and if there is any such candidate that can come here and wrest the nomination from Parker, that man probably is Judge George Gray of Delaware. There is some sentiment here for him. There is none for Cievelind, and probably unone can be misunfactured unless there should happen to be a long light. Tillman, in his interview to-Jay, said that George Gray would be the best man to nominate, and he predicted that Gray would beat Roose-veit. DRAWBACKS TO GRAY.

But there are mighty drawbacks Gray, from a Democratic standoint. PILING UP VOTES. Meantime, the Parker managers have gone through this hot Missouri day piling up votes, till tonight they say they have more than 500 for him on the first ballot, and they insist that he be nominated on the second ballot. It takes 667 votes to nominate; Parker people say they want to have and will have more than a majority on the first ballot, and that immediately upon that show of strength, there will be a stampede to their man. Today they made fieres inroads on the Hearst delegation. In Michigan, they fixed things so that the whole Michigan delegation will have a meeting, and it is predicted that the State will vote as a unit for Parker.

HEARST POLITICS. Hearst spent a large amount of oney to get votes from Kansas, and ney to get votes from Kansas, and en he partly succeeded, his news-pers had fits proclaiming his vic-y. So that is the situation, Parker is away in the lead and gaining, but there is a possibility that any minite Bryan, Hearst, Tammany, Gorman and other small fellows may get up a combination to beat him. If man and other small fellows may getup a combination to beat him. If Bryan had any strength, that could be done, but Bryan's statement, issued today, declaring that Parker

It seemed to help rather than hurt
Parker, and it demonstrated that Bryan is a dead duck in national politics. His arrival here was a frost.

ST. Then there was more talk about nominating John Sharp Williams floor leader of the Democrats in the House of Representatives, but Wil-liams is like his friend, Uncle Jos Cannon, profanely opposed to taking the Vice-Presidential nomination.

haps on the first. That is tonight the claim of the men who are in charge of the political affairs of the Nev York candidate. All day long the Parker opponents have tried to perect a programme which would prolong the balloting and afford an opportunity to name another candidate out apparently they have not sue ceeded. Many combinations have been suggested, but so far they seem to suggested, but so far they seem to have proved incapable of being assembled into a shape sufficiently substantial to show the independent and uninatructed delegates how another candidate can be named. Men supposed to hold the balance of power have asked the Parker opponents to say what would be done after Parker has been put out of the race, but tonight they say they have received no satisfactory answer.

OPPOSED TO GROVER. Gorman, Gray and Cleveland have een suggested, but no one is prebeen suggested, but no one is pre-pared to give assurances that either could receive the nomination. The mention of Cleveland has a tendency in some quarters to solidify the Par-ker strength, for many delegates say they do not want to take even the slightest chance of allowing Cleve-land a fourth nomination. While there is a very friendly feel-ing for Gorman among the Southern delegates, including those who are under instructions or bound by the unit rule to vote for Parker, yet the

The opposition to Judge Parker in its effort to tighten the lines and make sure of holding the delegations make sure of holding the delegations now counted as opposed to him, have brought out two new candidates in the persons of former Governor Pattlson of Pennsylvania and Gen. Miles. The opposition leaders appreciate to the utmost the difficulty of preventing a stampede to Parker, should his lead become pronounce lly manifest, but they are counting upon doing this by appealing to the local pride of use different favorite-son delegations to hold on as long as possible.

No announcement was given out from Senator Gorman tonight, and Vandiver, who had stated early in the day that he expected a communica-tion, said tonight that he had received none. Gorman's position as a con-fitional candidate has, however, become so well known that no formal statement from him is necessary. His friends still expect to press his candidacy if Parker falls of success, and in the meantime they will do all they can to bring about such a situation. The wisdom of casting the votes known to be for Gorman for other candidates has been canvassed, and this course practically decided upon. It is not yet absolutely determined just what aspirant will be thus complimented, but the choice lies between Pattison and Cockrell. The votes absolutely under Gorman's control are those of Marylani, West Virginia and the control of the candidates of the Delaward. The members of the Delaward called the comparison of the Delaward. The members of the Delaward called the comparison of the Delaward. The members of the Delaward called the comparison of the Delaward. The members of the Delaward called the comparison of the Delaward called the advantage of nominating their man. It was said that the New Jersey delegation is not brought forward. The men who are talking about Judge Gray are met with the question where the votes are to be secured to nominate him. The delegations with favorite sons as yet manifest an unwillingness to enter into sire to antagonize Parker.

PARKER SECOND CHOICE.

If by any chance there is a deadlock, they all hope to secure votes from the Parker column in the breakup. Nor are the favorite-son delegations such as can be transferred. In several cases, Parker is the second choice of the delegates. This is notably true of the votes instructed for Hearst. It is not believed that the editor-candidate could control them for any other candidate, while it is evident that quite a large number from the Northwest are ready to vote for Parker on the second ballot.

The Parker opponents admit that the vigorous declarations of the Tammany leaders to the effect that Parker could not carry New York seemingly have had little or no effect. The fact that the day has been passed without bringing to the fore any figure around which the anti-Parker element seems able to rally has taken a great deal of life out of the situation. While the contest over the platform and the second place on the ticket afford a great deal of interest, when fought out in the convention itself, the majority of delegates and those who come to see a convention and shout for their favorites are almost wholly interested in the head of the ticket. The result is that an air of apathy pervades the lobbies and other places where the rank and file assemble.

ST. LOUIS, July 4.—What is considered the beginning of a stamped to Parker took place tonight, in the action of the Pennsylvania delegation in adopting, by a vote of 57 to 5, a resolution instructing the chairman of the delegation to cast Pennsylvania's 68 votes to the conventient of the purpose of championing a contested case.

Bryan was engaged during the day with callers, many of them representing aspirants for the Presidential nomination. He discussed the situation with all of them, but committed tion with all of them, but committed himself to none. Among his visitors were some members of the North Carolina delegation, who insisted that Bryan should state in definite terms whether it was his purpose to bolt the ticket in case it should not be to his liking. He only replied that he would answer that question when the ticket was named.

THE CHAIRMAN. The selection by the committee of John Sharp Williams for temporary chairman seems to give general satisfaction. No determination has been reached as to who will be the permanent chairman, but several men have been suggested, and possibly all will be considered by the Committee on Permanent Organization before a selection is made.

HOLIDAY PLEASURES The exposition, the summer gar-iens, Fourth-of-July celebrations and dens, Fourth-of-July celebrations and other attractions won out over polities largely today in the contest for the attention of the delegates. Every train brought in hundreds of politicians who, after taking possession of their hotel accommodations, pursued their individual tastes in seeking holiday pleasures. There was little in the political programme to hold the visitors. Caucuses of the various State delegations generally went over until tomorrow or Wednesday. The day opened clear and warm. Consequently the trains and street cars bound for the fair grounds were loaded down.

No lack of patriotism exists in St.

Louis on Independence Day, if the under instructions or bound by the unit rule to vote for Parker, yet the predominant expression from this element is that the effort now making in behalf of the Maryland Senator is too late. They also point to the fact that when delegates were being chosen, Gorman gave no sign that he desirved the momination. It is too much to expect, they say, that delegates who were chosen as Parker men, whether under instructions or not, will desert him now, or as long as there is a possibility of securing his nomination.

PATTISON AND MILES.

No lack of patriotism exists in St. Louis on Independence Day, if the deafening reports of cannon crakers may be taken as an illustration of that quality. The roar was incessant, and to a majority was somewhat an onying. Toward the middle of the afternoon some relief was afforded by a heavy rainstorm, which drove the moise-producers indoors and wet many attacks of fireworks. Even them a desultory firing was maintained by throwing the firecrackers from windows and doorways for explosion in the streets. The rain brought a relief from the roar of the street explosions.

Around the Jefferson Hotel, where the Democratic National Committee was in all-day session considering the manner in which contests were to be heard, there was little diminution in the crowd. The lobbles were filled with persons who awaited with great interest the result of the deliberations. The subcommittees were named to hear the contests and waiting to hear the contests and waiting erowds gained no substantial informa-tion to reward their patience. At the headquarters of the various candidates there were many conferences, but these were not of a character to draw the masses. On the whole, the thous-ands known to be in the city for the

It is estimated that most of the delegations have arrived. A number of these have brought marching clubs, but the day has not been propitious for parading. The rainy afteraoon discouraged many of the marchers, while the small boy prone to explode his fireworks in the ranks of the clubs made others timid. The Kings County Democracy of Brooklya, to the number of about two hundred, got out in the interest of Parker, and, headed by a local band, the club paraded downtown streets between showers.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Following the determination of the Transit Company to collect a second fare between Brooklyn and Coney island, nearly 1800 passengers were ejected during Sanday when the cars reached Neck Road, where the second nickel is taken. A recent court decision bearing on the question was to the effect time passengers were entitled to-ride all the way for 5 cents.

Many free fighta occurred, and a large force of strong inspectors awaited each car at Neck Roads. In one or two instances they were beaten off when passengers dismounted from several cars and took the part of their fidiow-travelers.

TENNESSEE'S AMBITION.

That Senator Carmack of Tennessee shall second the nomination of Judge Parker has been decided upon. The Tennessee delegation has appointed a special campaign committee to work for the North Carolina delegation was described in the Vice-Presidency, and J. M. Mead, national committeeman from Tennessee, will be asked to place Mr. Carmack in nomination. Sentiment among those of the North Carolina delegation who have arrived on the scene is strongly in favor of a "compromise" platform. The North Carolinans say they want a platform on which all Democrats can stand, regardless of past alignments. The delegation is not instructed, but Parker sentiment strongly predominates.

"Four-fifths of the Democrats in Vermont are for Parker," said V. Bullard, chairman of the delegation, "for we have no doubts as to where we stand, nor any reservations."

"From our inquiries among the delegations," said Chairman John H. Holland of the Delsware delegation, "we conclude that Judge Parker will fail of nomination on the first, second or third ballots, and that after that his strength will begin to dissoive, much of it coming to Gray."

There is every indication that Penning to Gray."

Parker for President and "Tom" Taggart of Indianapois for chairman of the Democratic National Committee is a concise statement of the ambition of the Indiana delegation. The delegation cocupies a conspicuous position on the "headquarters floor" of the Southern Hotel, and calls attention to itself by an electrical display of Parker's portrait. Indiana is priding herself on being the second State to instruct for Parker, following New York, and Parker enthusiasm is abundant among the delegates. HOOSIER ENTHUSIASM.

than ever and Populism will live and gain strength."

Many of the delegates believe a mistake was made when the Populist convention was not postponed until after the St. Louis convention. But it is too late apparently now to make any changes. That a platform will be made and a ticket nominated before this convention adjourns seems beyond all doubt.

The attendance is a disappointment to the leaders. There also is disappointment that some of the recognized leaders of the party are absent.

It was learned today that Thomas E. Watson has a letter to John J. Holliday. a Georgia delegate, which may result in Watson's name not being presented to the convention. Holliday admits that he has a letter from Watson, but declines to make it public at this time or discuss it. He said he did not know whether Watson's name would go before the convention or not.

It is known that Watson is a friend of Mr. Hearst and it is said he favored a postponement of the Populist convention until after the St. Louis convention had been held, and if Hearst was ignored by the Democrats then Watson favored taking up Hearst. Mr. Helliday said today that Watson was an admirer of Hearst, but he believed he would be true to the teachings of Populism.

an admirer of Hearst, but he believed he would be true to the teachings of Populism.

As soon as Holliday received the Watson letter he had a conference with the Indiana delegates who are booming Judge Williams of that State for President. After the conference was over Holliday said that if Watson's hame was not presented to the convention, the southern delegates would support Williams.

Fred J. Robinson, Williams's manager, is more confident than ever that his man will be nominated. Mr. Williams is the only candidate who has an organization and his friends are making an active fight.

Watson's letter has cast considerable gloom over the delegates, as many fear he is going to desert the party, and they feit that with former Senator Marion G. Butler out and with J. A. Parker going to retire from active work in the party, there is little use to continue the fight. Former Senator Allen of Nebraska, however, takes a brighter view of the situation, and believes that sooner or later the Pepulist party will succeed.

Before the convention was called to order a meeting was held and there was an informal discussion of a plan of organization for the campaign. A number of propositions were submitted. One, offered by National Chairman Parker, seemed to be received with most favor. It provided for the organization of the People's party upon the same basis as the unions, the settlement of all questions and naming of candidates to be decided by the referendum.

There were fewer than 200 delegates candidates to be decided by the referendum.

There were fewer than 200 delegates present when Vice-Chairman Edmiston of the fusion wing called the Populist National Convention to order this afternoon. Rev. Thomas Wadsworth of Indiana was introduced and offered prayer. The call for the convention was then read by George A. Parker of Kentucky, chairman of the national committee. Ex-Congressman L. H. Weller of Iowa was named as temporary chairman.

ST. LOUIS, July 4.—The action of Pennsylvania tonight in voting to abandon their favorite son and support Judge Parker almost entirely changed the situation, as far as the divided sentiment in the New York delegation was concerned.

Senator Hill was led to remark that with another small accession Judge Parker would be elected on the first ballot. William F, Sheehan, who has been the active leader of the Parker forces, and August Belmont deprecated this, and argued that it would be wise to allow the other States to at least have the honor of naming in convention their favorite candidates.

The news was received at the Tammany headquarters in an entirely different way. Leader Murphy at first refused to believe it, saying that he had been assured tonight that the delegation would support Pattison.

One $8000 fire, one $2000 blaze, and half a dozen or more smaller fires some of which were merely scares, was the recent for this year's Fourth of July. Chief Strohm had made careful preparations for the day. Every member of the department was on duty, and in the downtown houses there were a number of extra men on the apparatus. In the headquarters of the fire department two operators were on duty all day and until late at night, one on each of the telephone lines, ready to take and transmit telephone alarms. For a Fourth of July the day passed quietly for the firemen. Naither of the two larger fires were attributable to the celebration or the at Pardee and Haldwin street, East Los Angeles, called out the fire companies in that district to save the houses which adjoined the lots on which the grass was burning.

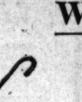

Hotel Brunson, No. 347 South Grand avenue, narrowly escaped destruction by a fire discovered at 2:15 o'clock last night. A firecracker had been thrown into a pile of sacks in the rear of and against the building. The fire smouldered for a time, and when it was discovered it had ignited the woodwork of the hotel. R. A. Poor, manager of the place, took the burning sacks in his hands and threw them away from the building. In doing this his hands were severely burned. The fire was then extinguished before serious damage resulted.

MILITIA CHARGES MOS.

SYDNEY (C. B.) July 4.—Unable to cope with a mob of 1000 strikers at the works of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company today, forcibly preventing non-union men from going to work, the civil authorities appealed to Maj. Crowe, and tonight the militia is protecting the company's property. One hundred of the Sydney Field Battery were placed at the entrance to the works, and with loaded carbines and fixed bayonets held an angry mob at bay.

As the troops were marching down Charlotte street to the works tonight, they encountered more than a thousand strikers, armed with clubs and stones. The mob gathered in front of the soldiers in an attempt to prevent the latter from escorting non-union men into the plant. The soldiers charged the mob with fixed bayonets, and forced their way through.

As for the twe fellows who had made all the trouble, they didn't have much to say. One had come down from Los Angeles and rented a boat to go fishing. He said that he had handled a sailboat on Lake George, and knew all about the art of seamanship. The other fool, who couldn't swim, said that he had taken his friend's word for it. He said he was occupying a cottage at Redondo.

They berrowed bathing suits while their clothes were put out to dry. Each had cast off his coat. An hour later they took an electric car back to Redondo. Later in the afternoon a launch came up from Redondo way and took in tow the capsized boat which was still floating bottom upward out beyond the breakers.

Then it was evident why the line had broken. The mast had clung in the

He was a little sawed-off runt, with patches on his clothes.
He had a cowlick on his head and freckles on his nose:
He was no good at lessons, for he always hated books.
He quite preferred the mystery of angle worms and hooks.

While other fellows cottoned down to wisdom's prosy way.
Joe used to pound an old baseball, and keep it up all day.
You'd always find that little runt, so full of grit and sand, do dragging everywhere with him a ball club in his hand.

I guess he used to sleep with it, he seemed to love it so; For everywhere that ball club went along went ruinty Joe.

And so he kept it up for years until he was the king High monkey monk among us all, and quite the proper thing.

The cannon was captured by Commodore Dewey at Manila Bay May 1, 1898. The charge was placed by two unknown men, who attached a slow fuse, lighted it and ran away. The discharge caused a terrific concussion, and the roar awakened the city. Several thousand dollars damage was done, windows being smashed in all directions and the stock of a neighboring large crockery store suffering heavily. There is no clew to the perpetrators.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—The national holiday was observed by the usual military parade of national and State troops, and by literary exercises in the afternoon. Col. J. C. Connor was grand marshal of the parade, and Superior Judge Murasky orator of the day. There were fewer accidents and fires than in previous years.

SAYINGS OF JESUS.

Excavations in an Ancient Egyptian City.

[New York Times:] Five newly-discovered sayings of Jesus Christ, with a fragment of a lost gospel, have just been published by The Oxford University Press of London and New York for the Egypt Exploration Fund. These discoveries form the second chapter in the remarkable results of the excavations in the ancient Egyptian City of Oxyrhyneus by Dr. Bernard P. Grenfell and Dr. Arthur S. Hunt of Oxford.

The first discovery was made in 1897, and consisted of eight sayings or Logia of Jesus. Undoubtedly the end of these valuable discoveries has not been reached. The discoverers say that it "has been on the whole the richest site in Egypt for papyri."

"This process of clearing the nu-these valuable discoveries has not been reached. The discoverers say that it "has been on the whole the richest site in Egypt for papyr!"

"This process of clearing the numerous mounds on a large scale," they say, "has aiready resulted in further important discoveries, but will necessarily be both long and costly in the case of a town which is more than a mile in length, and, after the termination of a third season's work there, the end is still far from being in sight."

The five sayings now published are apparently the beginning of a collection of the utterances of Jesus, and, according to the introduction that accompanies them, they were made to St. Thomas, and perhaps to another disciple. A word, or words, missing from the mutilated papyrus leave doubt whether St. Thomas is the chief source of the work or not.

The papyrus discovered in 1897 was written on the back of another document, a custom common in those days. It is in roll form, and the edges are worn or torn off, which results in the loss of several words from the sayings. The discoverers call this papyrus "No.1" and the one discovered in 1897 "No.2." The fragment of a lost Gospel they call "No.2."

The meetly-discovered collection begins with an introduction announcing that the words which follow are those which Jesus "spake to . . and Thomas," and it is stated that the Lord said, "Every one that hearkens to these words shall never taste of death."

The first saying is similar to Matthew's "Seek and ye shall find," with a promise that he who finds "shall be astonished: astonished he shall reach the kingdom he shall rest." The verse is quoted by Clement of Alexandris from the missing Gospel according to the Hebrews, and Clement's quotation is almost identical with this newly-discovered verse.

The second and longest saying is as follows:

almost identical with this newly-discovered verse.

The second and longest saying is as follows:

"Jesus saith, (Ye ask who are those) that draw us (to the kingdom, if) the kingdom is in Heaven? . . the fowls of the air, and all beasts that are under the earth or upon the earth, and the fishes of the sea, (these are they which draw) you, and the kingdom of Heaven is within you, and whoever shall know himself shall find it. (Strive therefore) to know yourselves, and ye shall be aware that ye are the sons of the (Almighty) Father; (and) ye shall know that ye are in (the city of God,) and ye are (the city.)"

Jesus's saying, "Many that are first shall be last, and the last first," variously reported in the first three gospels, constitutes the third saying. But it is prefaced by a statement indicating that Jesus encouraged His disciples to ask the question which He answers: "Jesus saith, a man shall not hesitate. . to ask . . concerning his place (in the kingdom)."

The fourth is a new version of the promise that nothing is hidden which shall not be raised." It begins, "Jesus saith, everything that is not before thy face and that, which is hidden from the shall not be raised." It begins, "Jesus saith, everything that is not before the face and that, which is hidden from the shall be revealed to thee."

The fifth saying is broken beyond hope of recovery. It is Jesus's answer to the following question by His disciples: "How shall we keep?" It was a question how far the disciples should comply with the Jewish ordinances, and the broken answer was apparently a series of short commandment; "insisting on the inner side of religion."

The discoverers assign the work to the middle of the third century, and they believe the compiler meant to give, as the ultimate authority for them, Thomas or Thomas and another, and not any of the four canonical gospels.

After the dive "sayings" comes the being asked by someone when his kingdom should come, said, When the two shall be one, and the outside as the inside, and the male with the fe-male neither male nor female." The newly-discovered fragment says: "His disciples say unto Hm, When wilt Thou be manifested to us, and

TWO STEPS

The Last One Reips the First
A sick coffee drinker must take two steps to be rid of his troubles and get strong and well again.

The first is tocut off coffee absolutely.
That removes the destroying element. The next step is to take liquid food (and that is Postum Food Coffee) that has in it the elements nature requires to change the blood corpuscles from pale pink or white to rich red, and good red blood builds good strong and healthy cells in place of the broken down cells destroyed by coffee. With well boiled Postum Food Coffee to shift to, both these steps are easy and pleasant. The experience of a Georgian proves how important both are.

"From 1872 to the year 1900 my wife and I had both been afflicted with sick or nervous headache and at times we suffered untold agony. We were coffee drinkers and did not know how to get away from it for the habit is hard to quit.

"But in 1900 I read of a case similar to ours where Postum Coffee was used in place of the old coffee and a complete cure resulted, so I concluded to get some and try it.

"The result was after three days use

With such examples before them it is a wonder that more young folks from Orange county do not get into the running.

The only announced candidate from Orange county at present is Harry Watson of Westminster, and he has not been heard from since the contest began. Young Watson is recemmended as a very worthy candidate. He is the son of the postmaster at Westminster, who is badly crippled and unable to provide for his son's education as he would like to do. The boy is ambitious and eager to go to some good school, where he can educate himself for a career of usefulness. With the whole of Orange county as a field to work in the scholarship contest, his chances of making a winning ought to be good.

Perfect Day for the Celebration of the Fourth in Los Angeles--Multitudes Gaze at Pyrotechnics-Programmes at the Parks.

> The sun was full of glory And Old Glory full of sun; 'Mid all the glorious cities Was ours the chosen one; For while the soaring speaker Rose above the shrilling fife And the towering eagle never Was so haughty in his life, The gladdest and most glorious Of all the bright display Was the "Land of Sunshine" halo That glorified our day!

Rev. Dr. John L. Pitner Addressing Throng in Central Park.

AT CENTRAL PARK.

By and by the veterans were replaced by the younger men of the railway band, who discoursed such heavy numbers as Von Suppe's "Poet and Peasant" overture. Twenty minutes of this, and then Chairman Frank cleared a space at the eastern bay of Central Park's band stand, and made a brief introductor speech to the audience of several hundred gathered there.

After his talk Francis T. Scott read the Declaration of Independence, and "The Star Spangled Banner" was given as a solo by Joseph Dupuy, with band accompaniment and a rousing chorus on the refrain.

Dr. Pitner, who was heartily applauded as he came forward after Mr. Frank's felicitous introducti m, delivered himself of no "oration," nor even a formal address. In a few well-chosen words, resonant and convincing with Surging thousands thronged the western entrance to Eastlake Park and overflowed out onto the railroad tracks. Seldom have so many people collected at one time for the same purpose in this city of large crowds: and nothing happened to mar their enjoyment. Those who wished to be "select" and those who were afraid of the brancing horses sat in the grand stand, and in serried rows packed tightly together watched the heavens aglow with a myriad dancing and shooting comets. "Oh, wasn't that lovely!" "There! that was the best!" "No—no! that one!" But when, in a set piece, George

"No—no! that one!"
But when, in a set plece, George Washington was displayed and the words, "Our Country" blazed out across the brow of the hill, there was no argument. Then as the band struck up "My Country "Its of Thee," with united voice all said, "That's the best."
Two boys of about 15 or 16 years, who were anxious not to display their enthusiasm, wandered around through the big crowd.

As a finale the great crowd was encircled in walls of light. Down along the rows of trees fires blazed and of crackled, then slowly died out, leaving in the center, so lately aglow with the aurora, only a black, surging mass of humanity struggling for seats on the homeward-bound cars.

DR. PITNER'S ELOQUENCE. AT CENTRAL PARK.

Central Perk's exercises were varied with stirring airs from the Grand Army Fife and Drum Corps, by softer music from the instruments of the Los Angeles Railway band, and finished with a song and the ringing brevity of Dr. John L. Pitner's informal address.

"Yankee Doodle," "Marching Through Georgia," and other martial clasies rang all thee hanges while the crowd was assembling, clear down to that new battlehymn of the republic, the rousing "Hot Time" march.

By and by the veterans were replaced by the younger men of the railway tures too often are drawn for the purpose of unduly exciting and inflaming the sober judgment of the people. I am not one of those who thus cries out against capital, for I believe that the bambination of capital, through the instrumentality of corporations and in other ways, has been a potent factor in the development of our material resources, which has taken place in this country in a manner to excite the astonishment and admiration of the civilized world. Without it, it is doubtful if such results could have been accomplished. But with the stupendous increase in wealth in the hands of comparatively few have come undue power and influence, unfortunately not always exercised in a manner likely to promote the general good. It is this abuse of power and the misuse of great wealth which the people cry out against, as threatening their rights and liberties, and which they must and will through adequate laws, passed and executed in a spirit of equality and exact justice, surb and control.

"Associated with this line of thought are the grave questions growing out of the relations between capital and labor; these questions today, more than any others, disturb the equanimity of the people and excite apprehension as to how they will be settled; for settled lay must and will be, just as this great people has given and executed in a man others, disturb the equanimity of the people and excite apprehension as to how they will be settled; for settled lay must and will be, just as this great people has given and executed in a manner others, disturb the equanimity of the people and excite apprehension as to how they will be settled; for settled lay must and will be, just as this great people has given and executed in a confronted it in the past; issues which involved our very existence as an action, we have met and decided according to right and justice, as all secure to every citizen the right to think, speak and act as his conscience dictates, so long as he violates not the law of the land. We must stand for freedom in civic life, justice in politics and honesty in public life.

"This is destined to be a century of conservatism, but it is the one in which the battle for personal freedom and personal independence must be fought. The age of serfdom is past. Social, economic and industrial freedom are the watchwords of our new civilisation. All interference with or restraint upon the man that toils must cease. It has no part in the heritage that has come down to us from our fathers, It is foreign to our civilisation and can have no place among us."

In conclusion Gen. Jones gave a spiendid eulogy to the President, who, he said, typifed the highest type of American citizenship and was well worthy to occupy the seat of the first President.

As the miner has a half interest in the enterprise, it can readily be seen that he has been hard hit.

Endurance and Team Work Win the Day.

Tupper and Mines of the for nothing against San Mateo endurance.

Play began shortly before 3 o'clock and ended at 4:40 o'clock, there being four periods of twenty minutes each and a five-minute rest in between. The game was singularly free from accidents, although almost every player was skinned. The Los Angeles players were most severely skinned (6-1,) but it is no disgrace to be beaten by such a crack team as San Mateo has. They showed us, these Scotch-English-Canadians did yesterday, but it didn't hurt a bit, for yesterday was the anniversary of the day we showed them once, so there are no hard feelings.

San Mateo, 6; Los Angelea, 1.

With a dash and a vim and a crash and a speed that have lowered the colors of many a team in this State, the swift San Mateo lacrosse team got an easy victory from the Los Angeles team yesterday at Prager Park, and if there had been any doubt about the outcome of the struggle during the latter half of the game, the truth and nothing but the truth could have been suspected from a look at Capt. Alf Mackensie's face during the final haif hour, as he stood back guarding his goal and watched the visitors "eat us up."

CITY LEAGUE BALL.

FANS STAY WITH IT.

The City League teams celebrated the holiday yesterday with a double header at the Chutes grounds, and notwithstanding a dozen other at tractions, about 230 people were present. The Hamburgers lost to the Owls by a score of 8 to 4 in ten innings, and the Woodmen beat the Tufts-Lyon team by a 4 to 2 score. The Hamburger-Owls game was a hard slugging match, the Houters making fourteen hits and the Hamburgers thirteen. Errors were numerous and there was only one inning in the ten when the ball was not swiped around the lot. George Bowman was the strongest with the stick, for he rapped out three shots in five times up. The contest was an interesting one up to the extra inning, when the visitors "eat us up."

play in doubles will be worked off this week at the local Central courts, it being necessary to dispose of Bell and Braly in the doubles before Thursday, that being the date Mr. Bell has set for his departure for the East. Next Saturday the remainder of the matches and finals in all events will be played off at Ocean Park. The junior singles is a long way from completion, and three matches are yet to be played in each of the other events.

Sinsabaugh and Way, better known as the managerial team, made a clean record in men's doubles, and are a factor to be reckoned with in picking a winner. With the teams now left in, the competition for victory in this event promises to be hotter by far than usual.

In the mixed doubles victory lies somewhere between Violet Sutton and Simpson Sinsabaugh. Florence Sutton and Johnny Donnell and Way and Mrs. Hendfrek. Mrs. Bruce and Alnsworth are still factors.

John S. Cravens, who was a famous college player in his younger days, has taken up his practice at spare hours with great benefit to his game, and yesterday to the surprise of many defeated Harold Braly 6-4, 8-7 in a hotly-contested match. Cravens plays a very heady game of tennis, and would make the best of them work had he the time to condition himself properly. Later on in the day after trimming big Braly, he put Tom Bundy out of the men's singles in three gaffy sets, 7-5, 4-6, 6-4, one of the hardest fights of the tournament. Bundy is no mean antagonist; he plays with good judgment and uses a number of very effective strokes.

The summaries:

Men's doubles—Bundy beat Taylor, 6-0, 6-2; Cravens beat Braly, 6-4, 8-7; Overton beat Rising, 6-4, 6-2; Bell beat J. tearn not as speedy and as well balanced, and the effect of it was shown in the latter half of the game, when the locals apparently backed up and allowed the visitors to score three points in the last twenty-minute period.

The Lyons boys shine for San Mateo about as brightly as any men you ever saw, for there are three of them, and when it comes to passing they can do it as gracefully as any eighthigh hand ever held. They are as quick and active as cats, and when they are backed up by Dr. Sisson, Darrah and Gilliger, their opponents can do but little. It was this team that beat the San Francisco aggregation 14 to 2, and no one doubts it.
The score shows, however, that the local team is a better one than many people have imagined.

The locals did not show up as well in actual play as they have done in practice, for while they run well and receive and pass prettily at times, they lack the team play that experience will give them. They are also shy on accuracy in passing the ball, and needlessly tire themselves in running to avoid a tackle. They held up well under the fast play for the first two periods, and the score was 2 to 1 against them at the end of the second. San Mateo made one more in the third by fast play, and the pace was so fast that Dwyer of the locals gave out from cramps in his legs, and was replaced by Longuevan, who did not make much of a hit with the visitors, for he is strong and husky and is not overly particular where his stick lands when he mixes in a scrimmage. He did create a commotion, however, when he commenced to play, for he rushed out in front of the grand stand full of people and pulled off his trousers amid a buszing hum of "Ohs" and "Ahs" and some blushes. These turned into a great snicker when "Cocke" finally emerged from his clothes clad in his regular lacrosse uniform.

Lacrosse is a great running and dodging game, and is miserable training for consumptives and those who have been raised as maw's pets. One stripping all previous efforts, the result was still in doubt until deuce games had been reached in the third set. Bell was very tired and his play showed it, but he tried for everything, and lost partly through inferior condition. Winning the first set seemingly exhausted his powers; Overton pounded out the second in 6-6, and the champion set himself for a final rally in the rubber. That he put up a stout resistance cannot be denied; Overton will probably never win a harder match. Back and forth the ball went, first one then the other having the advantage in games, until finally Overton from seven all, by a spurt took the necessary pair and the day's honors. He earned them all; his victory yesterday was the culmination of steady, thoughtful practice on the courts during the past year, and was in no sense a fluke excepting the slight advantage that accrued to him through the Laird of Bell's station being a bit "off edge," Yesterday was rather in advance of the opening day as regards class of play. With many of the weaker contestants out of the running, the average was higher and good matches were the rule. Doubles turned out some particularly close contests and were replete with dirst-class tennis. The concluding set-to of the day in men's doubles bringing out Bell and Braly against Hendrick and Donnell was quite the best of that event and though unfinished at dark, continued quite long enough to make half a hundred spectators miss dinner willingly. The youngsters were both energetic and accurate; they gave the older fellows all they could do, and were playing considerably the strongest game at the finish. The first set was pounded out by Bell and Braly 6-4, but the lads came back strong in the second and 6-1 in their favor was announced at dusk when operations had to be postponed. Bell showed to better advantage in the doubles than he usually does. Henrick and Donnell teamed together like veterans, lost no points through mismanagement, and surprised everybody by scoring some returns that looked like lost point which he hopes to have adopted by the Democratic convention. The pre-cise nature of Senator Gorman's platform has not been revealed, any more than has that of the Bryan-Hears than has that of the Bryan-Hearst combine. It is perfectly safe to say, however, that the Gorman platform is not the same as the one written by Bryan. Possibly it is a sort of compromise between radicalism and conservatism, which may be accepted by the convention if it does not bump in technique aright either of these up too hard against either of thos

This wonderful platform, it is further alleged, "will eliminate all foolishness," and will eliminate all foolishness," and will be "a piatform upon which any patriotic Democrat can stand, but upon which Populists, Socialists and anarchists will feel extremely uneasy." A Democrace platform which should "eliminate all foolishness" would indeed be a curiosity—something heartofore unhanced in Democracian processing the pro thing heretofore unheard of in Demo cratic annals. The country will await with much interest the publication of the exact terms of Mr. Williams's platform. If it prove to be a platform upon which all Democrats, or all who call themselves such, can stand without cutting each other's throats, it will be, so to speak, "a bird." It has not been supposed, heretofore, that there was enough available timber in the Democratic party to build a platform upon which both Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Bryan could stand at the same time without jostling. disappointed bidder for the city printing. Increases the "dear pee-pul." but will he dissorge the 318.56 or thereabouts he took from the public treasury for printing city advertisements under his contract which, if the present one is illegal, was also illegal?

The Democratic platform will, it is said, be a very tame affair. This evidently means the elimination of the familiar "point with pride" and "view with alarm." But who will be able to youch for the authenticity of a Democratic platform minus these time-honored trade-marks?

The Atlanta Constitution arises to remark that "after election day the g. 0, p. will reflect yetfully that its late antional convention was the thirteenth since the organization of the party." The esteemed Constitution cannot referring inform injecting a little humor into the campaign.

It is said the Democratic platform will be a harmless thing, very mild, and can be swallowed without capsules. However, the well-known after effects of Democratic medicine will make the great majerity of voters unwilling to try even a homeopathic dose just now. And now there comes that familiar and ancient yarn to the effect that the hair of Perdicaris turned white during the month he was Fraissouli's captive. Unfortunately for the story, the latest photograph of Perdicaris shows that gentleman practically bald.

It is suggested to Prof. Pickering, who is coming West to study voiceances, that he stop at St. Louis tomorrow and remain there several days. He will doubtless discover some "unclassifed" but none the less interesting eruptions.

CASINO. Miss Kendail is again the life of the show at the Casino. The Olympians are presenting "The Wedding Day." by Julian Edwards and Stanislaus Stange—a pretty thing, with some tuneful music, little comedy, and a rather characteriess plot. Eagleton has little real comedy work, though considerable music. We like Eagleton better when he uses his funnyisms more and his voice less—he is a natural comedian, albeit not one of noisy horse-play tendencies. Miss Kendali is cast as the dainty bride, a pretty thing, indeed, and withal as clever a woman as one could wish in the role. Her art is simple and sincere, although a touch of effectation necessarily goes with the soubrette role.

Miss Jenkins is assigned to a singing part, and fills it creditably. Carl Haydn has a chance a la tenore as Raoul, and carries off more vocal honors.

Haydn has a chance a la tenore as Raoul, and carries off more vocal honors.

The male chorus, as usual, look like painted Indians. Their make-up is atrocious, although there is not any special reason for such an appearance, and they have been long enough at the business to know how to apply it.

"The Wedding Day," while not so brilliant an offering as "La Mascotte," serves the purpose of summer amusement, and is an entertaining trifle wherewith to while away a warm evening.

Kinley and Moosever, nad singlish names."

"You have forgotten that there was one with a Holland name—Van Buren. I suppose some of you Dutchmen would claim him." remarked a member of the Holland Society.

"How does the entire list stand, alphabetically?" asked the curious man. "I looked that up the other day," replied the ready man. "Twelve letters of the alphabet have not figured in the Presidency. They are D. E. I. K. N. O. Q. S. U. X. Y and Z."

"Maybe you can tell us right away which letter has figured, as you term it, oftenest?" asked the man who had started this branch of the talk.

"Sure," was the prompt reply. "There have been three A's, two G's, three H's, three J's, three M's, two P's and two T's. B, C. F. L, R, V and W have been represented once."

"How many of our Presidents have had nicknames?" asked the man who had come in at that moment.

This required a little exercise of the gray matter, but the man who had made the alphabet a study was to the fore after a brief luli.

"I count ten," he said. "We had Old Abe, Andy Jackson, Andy Johnson, Ben Harrison, Zach Taylor, Old Buck, Chet Arthur, and Teddy Roosevelt. Some of these had other nicknames. Jackson was known as Old Hickory, the first Harrison was Tippecance. Lincoln was the Raif Splitter, Taylor was Old Rough and Ready, and Rooseveit is frequently called the Cowboy and the Rough Rider."

"How many members of the Cabinet ever became Presidents?" asked the man who had worked the alphabet. "Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, J. Q. Adams, van Buren, and Buchanan. Each had been Secretary of State and afterward Secretary of War in Pierce's administration of Madison."

"There was another Cabinet officer who became President."

But nobody said anything. After they had shaken up the bag once more an old Hunker said that Tyler's administration took the cake for shake-ups in the Cabinet. He ran off the names of four Secretaries of State,

After the reading of the Declaration of Independence and the singing of patriotic songs, the crowd heard an oration by Earl Rogers of Los Angeles, whose effort was a decided success. His theme was Americanism, and in his remarks he flayed the labor unions unmercifully, as the most un-American institution in the land. "It lies with you people of the country," he said, "to right the wrongs which labor and capital in their greed are foisting upon the land. It is time that the walking reprobate, who tells your boy and my boy that they cannot learn trades without the permission of some foreign importation was made to feel his place, and to know that in this land of freedom it is the right of every man who wants to work to work at honest labor, as it is the right of every man to employ whom he pleases."

The speaker got in hard blows against the un-American methods practiced by the trades unions. He told how a machinist of San Francisco was forbidden in His own shops to teach his own boy the business because it was against the "laws" of the union. The speaker was frequently and loudly applauded for his telling points against unionism, and had the crowd with him in his appeals to the country to right the great wrongs and injustices which are practiced in the cities by the unions.

THREE DAYS ON ISLAND CRUISE.

SOUTH COAST YACHTS' VISIT TO CATALINA.

nondays are at their best when spent or the face of the deep. To be out of sight of land means that one is a long way from the revolvers and cannon crackers, so the danger of the mad-house is somewhat removed. The cruise of the South Coast Yacht Club has, for most of the boats, occupied three whole days, as a good many remained at Avalon yesterday for the purpose of enjoying the fireworks. These yachts will not be back till some time today. The first part of the cruise from the clubhouse moorings to Avalon was rather slow at the start, owing to the light winds in the first two hours after noon on Satunrfay, but later there came a good breeze to send the pleasure vessels to their destination. Owing to the differences in the time of starting, the passage to Catalina was not exactly a race, though there was a good deal of interest taken in the speeding of the boats.

The yachts arrived in time to allow the salling amateurs and their guests to enjoy the dancing at the Hotel Metropole, and Sunday was spent in quiet cruising in the reflections of Catalina's mountains.

POURTH AT STATE SCHOOL.

WHITTIER, July 4.—A general holiday was observed at the State School. Although the band is at present at Ventura, the boys had an enjoyable time. They were furnished with a liberal allowance of firecrackers and other noise producers, and in addition to using these, under the direction of Superintendent Smith, they played ball and enjoyed a variety of field sports, races, jumping, etc., on the school grounds.

At the girls' school recitations and work were also abandoned. The pupils were given unusual liberties about the grounds and refreshments were served on the lawn under the direction of the matron, Miss Wall, Miss Bessie Belle Thew read a portion of the Declaration of Independence and directed a fing drill: "Barbary Fristchie" and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" were recited by pupils and other exercises calculated to inspire patriotism were held. PORTSAN PEDRO, LOS ANGELES

Within the sacred chamber all was quiet. Burrounded by a mass of legal and other literature. Justice Holmes was reading—and he heard not the noise of the crowds down on Pennsylvania avenue waiting to see the parade of the "Greatest Show on Earth." Suddenly Mr. Holmes glanced up from his book. He knitted his brows in a perplexed fashion, and looked hard into empty space.

Was he trying to solve a complex legal problem?

Oh, no, he was merely listening—and as he listened the look of interest on his face grew in intensity.

"Bounds like a brans band," he murmured, as the thump, thump, thump of the hig bass drum broke the stillness.

"It is a band," he concluded, involunced. TO LEAVE-TUESDAY, JULY & samer Senta Barbara, Capt. Zaddart, for Francisco. and was amer Bonita for San Francisco and was
